SYMPATHY FROM HONOLULU SENT TO VALLEY ISLE

Lahaina Recovering From Inundation; No Further Loss of Life Reported From Wailuku; One Japanese Girl is Missing Still

On behalf of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, Fred L. Waldron, president, today sent out a letter to the Maui Chamber of Commerce, expressing the regret and sympathy of the local organization for the losses of life and property caused by the recent disaster by storm. The letter follows:

"January 22, 1916.

"Mr. F. F. Baldwin,

"President, Maui Chamber of Commerce, Wailuku, Maui.

"Dear Mr. Baldwin:

"It would not be typical of Hawaiian human nature to hear of the terrible calamity suffered by the island of Maui during the past week without giving vent to genuine expression of sympathy.

"Individually, and on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu, I wish to voice the intense feeling of sorrow caused the members of our body upon receiving the telegraphic account of the catastrophe.

"It is with extreme regret we learn of the apparent heavy damage to property, but, above all, we wish to tender our most sincere sympathies to the people of Maui who are suffering by the sudden taking away of loved members of their families during the storm which carried with it a toll unknown before in Hawaii.

"Very respectfully,
"FRED L. WALDRON,
"President."

Lahaina is Recovering.
With the radio station, city lighting and power plant, also the city water pumping plant working again, and storekeepers and citizens removing several inches of flood mud from their property, Lahaina is rapidly recovering from the effects of the Sunday to Thursday gale, according to reports of the inter-island steamer Mauna Kea, which arrived at 6:15 this morning from Hilo, Mahukona and Lahaina.

No lives were lost or houses washed away at Lahaina, the ship's officers reported, and the only damage to shipping there was the destruction of two Japanese fishing sampans. All the small fishing and pleasure craft were hauled up for safety to Lahaina's main business street, which parallels the wharf and beach. Of the two wrecked sampans, the engine was saved from one, and the other was hauled up on the beach, but not until it had been badly battered and practically wrecked.

"Lahaina people think the road to Wailuku will be open again by Monday or Tuesday," said Freight Clerk E. Thompson today. "The telephone company's repair gang is hard at work and expects to have phone service resumed tomorrow or Monday. Power Wires Went First.

"I went ashore at Lahaina and learned that the kona gale and flood made a lot of trouble there. The wires of the electric lighting and power system blew down first, then came the flood and inundated the generating plant. With no electricity, the radio station at Lahaina went out of business, and, when it got its emergency power plant to working, found there was no water in the city mains to feed its boilers because the city water pumping station had been flooded, stopping the pumps.

"George Dunn, inter-island agent there, told me there were three inches of mud all over his office floor and the same condition existed in many other parts of the town. The water has all gone down by this time, though, and things are being cleaned up. The wind uprooted a fine, stately old tree near Dr. Burt's place. It was between 45 and 50 years old."

Purser P. T. Phillips said the Mauna Kea had no trouble landing passengers and freight at Lahaina on both the outward and inward trips. He added that the weather homeward was delightful, with light variable winds along the Hawaii coast and smooth seas in channels.

"There was a light swell at the landings," he said, "but not sufficient to stop work. Crossing the channels we had moderate westerly winds, smooth seas and a clear night."

No passengers from the storm-ravaged town of Wailuku were taken aboard at Lahaina, because they could not get to Lahaina as the road is out of commission from washouts. A temporary road may be open by the fore part of next week.

ANTI-ORIENTAL PROVISIONS IN BURNETT'S BILL

House Will Get Next Week a Report Recommending Stricter Legislation

(Associated Press by Cable)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 22.—With a stringent anti-oriental provision incorporated as the result of recent debates and discussions, the Burnett immigration bill will be reported to the house next week, after a series of committee hearings. One of the features will be a provision to exclude Hindus and Chinese from entering the United States, and another provision will restrict Japanese immigration.

The restrictive anti-oriental provisions are the culmination of efforts of Pacific coast members of Congress, who are trying to secure drastic legislation on this subject. As the bill probably will be reported to the house, it proposes the exclusion of the brown and yellow races, with certain exceptions which relate to passports chiefly. It broadens the penalty for violating the provisions of the immigration act so that instead of fine or imprisonment being made the penalty, both fine and imprisonment must be imposed. Other penalties are provided so that steamship companies convicted of being involved in schemes to land aliens against the regulations may be punished.

ARREST MAN WHO SAYS HE FOUND GEORGE DYING

Jesse Dukas, colored, a civilian employee in the army quartermaster department at Schofield Barracks, was brought to Honolulu by Marshal J. J. Smiddy this afternoon to face charges of having murdered G. M. George, also a civilian employee at the post, who died in the barracks hospital last Wednesday morning as the result of a blow on the back of the head from a heavy implement.

Dukas, who was unable to give a satisfactory account of his whereabouts on the night of the alleged murder, was taken into custody by army officers at Schofield Barracks last night. At the instance of District Attorney Horace W. Vaughan, a commissioner's warrant for Duke's arrest was issued this morning and Marshal Smiddy was despatched to Lihue to bring the man under suspicion to Honolulu.

George was a money lender and it is reported that on the night of the alleged murder he had a well-filled purse on his person. The purse was (Continued on page two)

ARGUE INJUNCTION SUIT OF BREWERY AGAINST BARTLETT

Argument was had in Circuit Judge Ashford's court today on the effort of the Honolulu Brewing & Malting Company to bring an injunction against Fred Harrison and Charles G. Bartlett, erstwhile president and manager of the brewery, to prevent them from disposing of any of Bartlett's property still in the territory. It is sought to enjoin the respondents until such a time as they shall give security for the payment of a note of $1555, given by the brewery to Thomas Marlowe, who was proprietor of the now defunct Kentucky saloon, and which was indorsed by Marlowe to the brewery. The note is now held by the brewery and will not fall due for about 14 months. Judge Ashford probably will decide the matter next week.

MEXICAN BANDIT KILLS ANOTHER CITIZEN OF U. S.

Bert Akers, Ranchman, Shot When He Tries to Recover Stolen Cattle

CUSTOMS GUARDS FIRE ON BORDER REFUGEES

When Greasers Try to Cross, Officials Shoot Under Quarantine Orders

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 22.—Customs officers today opened fire on Mexicans who were attempting to cross the border carrying among their little belongings bundles of rags. The Mexican refugees fled.

The customs men have received strict orders not to allow rags to be taken across the border, because they carry the germs of the typhus which is now rampant in Mexico.

EL PASO, Texas, Jan. 22.—The tense situation prevailing along the Texas-Mexican border, particularly in the vicinity of El Paso, has been complicated by still another crime in which an American is the victim. Details have reached here of the killing of Bert Akers, an American of Ysleta, Texas. Rumors that he had been shot by a Mexican were confirmed by the definite information that Bernardo Duran, a Mexican cattle-rustler and bandit who operates across the border towns, had shot and killed Akers in a fight at San Lorenzo, just below the border.

Akers, accompanied by Douglas Downs and another American whose name is not known, went across the border to recover some cattle stolen by the Mexican thieves from a Mrs. J. D. Murphy. Akers' sister-in-law has learned that Duran and his brother Frederico began the shooting affray in which Akers was killed. Both of the Duran brothers claim that they drew their revolvers in self-defense. Both have been jailed.

FLOODS TAKING TOLL IN MIDDLE AND FAR WEST

Thousands Homeless in Northern Illinois; Yuma, Arizona, Mostly Under Water

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 22.—Thousands of people are homeless in northern and central Illinois on account of the floods which have followed the storms of the last few weeks. The receding waters make the possibility of an epidemic a matter of grave anxiety and in neighboring cities is causing the health officials to issue stringent orders for sanitary measures.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 22.—All over Alaska the weather is below zero. In Eagle it is 64 below, in Tanana 62 and in Nome 20 below.

YUMA, Arizona, Jan. 22.—The city is flooded by the rising floods which have swept away the intake gate at the Imperial Valley irrigation project's diversion dam. The water is several feet deep in the streets and a river is rushing down the main street. Mayor C. C. Moore dropped dead today of heart failure caused by excitement. There is almost a panic in the city.

United States troops are aiding in strengthening the government levees, which broke through in one place today and inundated the lower lands.

YEE YO KEUK TO SERVE FROM FIVE TO TWENTY YEARS

After having confessed that, on one occasion, he broke out of jail for the express purpose of killing John Woo, Korean detective, who he charged with being a spy, Yee Yo Keuk, bandit and bad man, was sentenced by Circuit Judge Ashford today to serve not less than five or more than 20 years at hard labor in Oahu prison. Early this week, the Korean bandit was convicted of first degree robbery, and it was upon that charge that he was sentenced today. The charge against him of assault with intent to commit murder was nolle prossed at the instance of City Attorney Brown. Woo was the only Korean interpreter in court today, and Yee Yo Keuk said he had no objection to Woo translating what he had to say. The Korean bad man said that, after he had gotten out of prison for the purpose of killing this afternoon was believed to have investigated the following cases: E. Kuaili, forgery; John Patez, slattery; J. K. Stewart, assault with a deadly weapon; Sexto Serintos, assault with a weapon, two charges; M. F. Costa, perjury.

NOTED AMERICANS INDORSE PLAN FOR CONTINENTAL ARMY AND COMPULSION

SHANSI REBELS BEGIN MOVEMENT TOWARD PEKING

Allied Troops of Yunnan and Kwaichow Gain Successes; Yuan Good to Manchus

(Special Cable to Liberty News)
SHANGHAI, China, Jan. 22.—The province of Shansi in the north of China has declared independence of Yuan Shih-Kai, and the troops of that province will make an attack on Peking. Shansi province adjoins Chihli province, the stronghold of the monarchists on the west, and is entirely in the hands of the revolutionary troops.

Yen Shi Shen, military governor of this province who has gone over to the revolutionists, has ordered one division of the Shansi army to make an attack on Peking via the Peking and Hankow railroad. The road from the west runs from the capital city of Shansi to Chungking in the province of Chihli. This road is owned by the French government, and troops have already advanced over most of the territory to Chungking.

Military authorities here believe that the proposed attack on Peking is for no other purpose than to hold Yuan's troops in the capital city, so reinforcements can not be sent to Honan and other provinces where engagements are now taking place.

The allied troops of Yunnan and Kwaichow have taken the capital of Sze Chuen, Cheng Doo. This was the last stronghold of the monarchists in that province and when the attack was made on the garrison the defensive troops came out to fight with the revolutionists, and Cheng Wan, the military governor, was forced to flee for his life.

It is announced in a Peking report that Yuan Shih-Kai has demitted the civil governor of Shansi province, on account of his lack of interest in the crisis. In another report Yuan has ordered the officials of the Peking and Hankow railroad not to take citizens of Shansi province as passengers.

Rebels Win in Yunnan.
PEKING, China, Jan. 22.—The rebels against the Yunnan province have defeated the government troops and are gaining strength materially. They are now moving northward and reinforcements for the loyal army are being sent to meet them.

It is believed that the rebels intend to proceed to Cheng Tu, capital of Szechuen province, and try to use this city as an important headquarters for the revolutionary movement.

After Favor of Manchus.

(Special Correspondence to Nippu Jiji)
OSAKA, Japan, Jan. 22.—In order to pacify the Manchus and the Manchukuoists, Yuan Shih-Kai has appointed Prince Lun as president of the senate, and also has issued a mandate to accord a most cordial treatment to the ex-emperor. On the injunction of the ruler, Gen. Tuau of Mukden has issued proclamations to the Manchus stating that they will each receive a plot of land from the government.

Gen. Feng Kuo-chang, newly appointed chief of the general staff, Gen. Tuan Chi-Kel, Chang Hsun, Chiang Kuei and others have been created princes. Besides this announcement, 10 marquises, 13 counts, five viscounts and 13 barons have been created.

Soon after Yuan Shih-Kai located the three bombs in the palace at Peking, he made an investigation further, and discovered several other bombs in different parts of the city. Several conspirators were arrested, including a representative to congress from Honan during the republic.

Japan Snubbed Monarchy.

(Special Cable to Hawaii Shippo.)
TOKIO, Japan, Jan. 22.—It is known today that the Japanese government opposed the coronation of Yuan Shih-Kai as emperor of China. Yuan asked the Japanese government to recognize the proposed imperial government, and after a cabinet meeting Japan refused and also requested the postponement of the coronation.

Yuan Shih-Kai officially announced to Japan that he would postpone the coronation, and the minister of foreign affairs has replied to Yuan Shih-Kai, China asked Russia, England, France and Italy to recognize the monarchy but all four countries favored a post ponement.

JAPAN TO BUILD MORE DIRIGIBLE AIRSHIPS

(Special Cable to Hawaii Shippo.)
TOKIO, Japan, Jan. 22.—The first long distance flight of an airship in Japan was completed today when the one airship owned by the Japanese army finished a successful flight from Tokorozawa to Osaka, a distance of 400 miles. The success of the flight means that Japan will build more airships in the future.

Ing this afternoon was believed to have investigated the following cases: E. Kuaili, forgery; John Patez, slattery; J. K. Stewart, assault with a deadly weapon; Sexto Serintos, assault with a weapon, two charges; M. F. Costa, perjury.

GREAT NORTHERN TRAIN IS SWEEP AWAY BY SLIDES

Snow Avalanche in Cascade Mountains Huris Westbound Coaches From Track

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 22.—The westbound Great Northern train from Spokane was today partially wrecked near the summit of the Cascade mountain range, over which it passes on its way to the Puget Sound country. The train was hit by a terrific snow avalanche near Summit, and hurled from its tracks 300 feet down the west slope. The number of dead is uncertain.

Rescuers who are at work as fast as they can be rushed to the scene believe that perhaps 14 perished. The train was at a standstill when it was struck. It was just about to proceed after clearing away a minor snow obstruction on the track.

The dinner and day coaches got the full impact of the avalanches. The number of occupants of this part of the train has not been determined. The dinner is reported to have caught fire and to be burning up. Cries for help, coming from those imprisoned inside, add to the horror of the situation. Numbers of the dead and living have already been removed.

FOUR YEAR OLD BOY IS INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

Little Sakai Akeda so Badly Hurt Physicians Will Not Assure His Recovery

Run over by an automobile driven by B. C. Suinn on King street near Alder, four-year-old Sakai Akeda is at the Japanese Hospital suffering from internal injuries, and is so seriously hurt that it cannot be said whether or not he may live. The child's home is with his parents at Kinau and Peninsula streets. Today it was said the boy had probably sustained severe internal injuries.

Driving along King street toward town, Suinn met Sheriff William P. Jarret, going Walkiki, and as the two machines passed the child ran from the sidewalk and dodged in front of Jarret's machine, which he was watching. Suinn saw the boy running toward his automobile while looking back, and drove his automobile all the way on the sidewalk trying to avoid striking him. Before he could stop the child ran into the left front wheel of the machine, which passed over the boy's body.

Sakai was taken to the Emergency hospital, and after treatment by Dr. R. G. Ayer was removed by his parents to the Japanese Hospital. At this institution physicians today said they could not state just how badly the boy was hurt.

Suinn is a clerk at the Arts and Crafts shop on Kukui street, and lives at the same place.

STIMSON AND ROOT IN FAVOR OF GARRISON'S IDEA; TOUR OF WILSON WILL BE GENERAL

PRESIDENT EXPECTS TO MAKE "PLATFORM SPEECHES" AT MANY TOWNS EN ROUTE TO PRINCIPAL POINTS OF TWO TRIPS—ANOTHER "MYSTERIOUS FIRE" ON VESSEL CARRYING MUNITIONS

(Star-Bulletin Special by Mutual Wireless).
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 22.—Secretary Garrison's plans for a continental army, as endorsed by the president and to be urged by Mr. Wilson on his forthcoming speaking tour, were given unqualified indorsement today by Ex-Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson.

Mr. Stimson's emphatic indorsement came in the course of an address before the National Security League which is in session here. He declared also that compulsory military service is the true solution of the defense problem.

Referring to the details of the Garrison program, he said that they make up a sound initial step, indicating his belief that further steps will be necessary to provide the ideal plan for meeting the problem of national defense.

Senator Elihu Root of New York, who was unable personally to be present, sent a letter in which he indorsed the contention of Secretary Garrison that the National Guard does not furnish a dependable medium for army increase to the extent proposed by the experts.

Secretary Garrison's plan for a Continental Army is succinctly set forth in a statement which has just reached Hawaii from Washington. This statement was made by Mr. Garrison before the House committee on military affairs on January 6. The gist of it is in the following paragraph:

"It is proposed to raise 400,000 men, embracing the various arms of the service, in annual increments of 133,000 each. The country would be divided up into districts and each district would be called upon for its proportionate quota. If the 400 congressional districts are taken as a basis, 333 men would be required annually from each such district. The men would enlist for three years with the colors and three years on furlough. During the time of their service with the colors they would be subjected to military training. They would be armed, equipped and officered. Their training would be done by the officers and men of the Regular Army organizations, units of which similar to those to be trained being sent to work with each such unit. They would be paid during the time of their service on the same basis as the Regular Army is paid. At first officers would be secured from those who have served in the Regular Army or the National Guard, from the officers on the reserve list of the Army, from graduates of military schools and colleges who qualify, and from the ranks of the force itself. Later it is hoped that we can obtain large numbers of proper material from the many schools and colleges throughout the country that either have or will include proper military courses, standardized under regulations of the War Department, and over which courses and training the War Department will have sufficient supervision and participation to keep informed of the results and to be able to select the best material. Thousands of young men will be graduated from these institutions each year after we have got the system in complete operation. They will furnish as fine material as any foreign army ever had for this purpose."

President Will Make Brief Talks On Defense Program From His Car

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 22.—President Wilson, his wife and his personal secretaries are on the presidential yacht Mayflower, cruising on the Potomac and bound for Chesapeake Bay. They will return on Monday. The president's speechmaking trip on behalf of his national defense program will soon begin and it is learned that it will probably include a number of platform speeches made from the president's private car as the train stops at various towns between the principal speaking-points.

Norwegian Freighter Victim Of Mysterious Fire; Carries Munitions

NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 22.—A mysterious fire has forced the Norwegian freighter Sygna to return to port. The Sygna sailed yesterday for Archangel, with a consignment of munitions and other war supplies for the Russian government. An investigation is now in progress.

JAPANESE IN CANADA WILL FORM REGIMENT

(Special Correspondence to Nippu Jiji)
OSAKA, Jan. 22.—According to a telegram from Ottawa, a body of about 1000 Japanese residents in British Columbia have applied to General Sir Sam Hughes, Canadian war minister, proposing to organize a volunteer regiment for service in the European war. The commanding officers will also be Japanese, and there is a definite plan, adds the telegram, for the replenishment of possible losses.

Until a definite decision is reached as to who shall be successor to A. R. Gurrey, resigned, the board of fire underwriters has appointed Frank A. Bechert as acting secretary. This action was taken at a meeting of the board yesterday afternoon. It is understood that Mr. Bechert is being favorably considered for the position of secretary.

Chinese troops have rescued the missionaries at the Scandinavian alliance mission at Patesbolong, Mongolia. Recent advices were that the mission was surrounded by bandits. Emperor William sent a message of condolence to the widow of Gen. Yen Eumchek, the captain of Liang, who died at Haman.

SUBMARINE H-3 EASILY FLOATED

(Associated Press by Cable)
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 22.—The U. S. submarine H-3, which ran aground in the harbor yesterday while on a practice cruise, was floated today without great difficulty. The submarine ran on a mudbank and was left firmly there by the receding tide. The mother ship Cheyenne helped pull her off this morning.

Despondent because of ill health, Mrs. Mary Webb, wife of a prominent farmer of Middlemarch, Ont., jumped from the top of a windmill at her home and was killed.
